

HULLO

BRITISH SUB-AQUA CLUB
HULL BRANCH
NEWSLETTER NO 210

Above

Your Compressor Officer with his family in the pool, after a TryDive

Left

Your Compressor's grandson after the
Tr Dive

Vickki Collins (her partner David Battisson qualified last year) the other Trainee is Rob Danby.

Photos by Trevor Jones

Many years ago, at an AGM meeting, someone passed wind very loudly,

Without looking up the chairman, Richard Jaques Turner said

“Are you passing a motion?”

Ted Cavill said

“I must be dislectic with rope”

I had to go to hid place to splice a new painter on his boat. Don

I;m sorry that I;ve not been around but the DVLA have taken my driving license off me. Diabetes you know.

Don

ANOTHER BURTON STORY

We were in Aberdaron, North Wales

We launched our boat down the slip right next to the pub. The tide was in and the launch was easy.

Much later in the day we returned the tide was out and the water's edge was now a long way down the beech. We managed to get the trailer down the beech and got the boat on but only succeeded in gaiting stuck in the sand

However, a quick think !

John backed his Landrover on to the quite steep ramp alongside the pub.

I fastened a long rope onto the trailer and brought the loose end to the Landrover/

I took a complete turn around the towball and hung on whilst John drove up the ramp. The trailer with boat moved up the beech about twenty feet.

The Rover backed down and I pulled the rope to take up the slack.

We repeated this operation about ten times until the trailer (with boat) arrive at the bottom of the slip,

It was at this time that we noticed we had a spectator - the village bobby.

He spoke in a lovely Welsh accent

“Very bloody clever, but if you try to do that in the holiday weekend, I’ll have the balls off you.”

Don